

To Revoke License of Three Arkansas Whiskey Dealers

Are Charged With Failing to File Reports of Inventories

CASH ON THE LINE

Will Put Both Wholesale and Retail Business on Cash Basis

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Revenue Commissioner Z. M. McCarrall announced Tuesday he had ordered three retail liquor dealers to appear before him June 19 to show cause why their permits should not be revoked on charges of failing to file complete inventories of their stocks as required by the 1939 Nyberg act.

McCarrall disclosed that he would issue a regulation effective Thursday prohibiting liquor wholesalers and retailers from making sales on a charge account basis, thus "putting the liquor industry on a cash basis."

In a third pronouncement, he said he would demand payment of the five cents per gallon tax from the Southwestern Distilled Products, Inc., liquor rectifiers, on liquor that it handled as soon as an audit of the company is completed.

Kiwanians Hear Negro Spirituals

N. F. A. Quartet, Recent State Winner, Heard Here Tuesday

Members of the Hope Kiwanis club at their regular luncheon meeting Tuesday were entertained with a program of negro spirituals by the N. F. A. Quartet, recent winner of first place as best quartet in the State Singing contest held in Pine Bluff.

The N. F. A. quartet is composed of C. L. Flenory, W. C. Easter, A. J. Pigge and Thomas English, students in the class of J. H. Harris, vocational agriculture teacher at Yenger High School, who are to represent the state of Arkansas in competition in a national contest to be held at Borden town, New Jersey, early in August.

These negro boys displayed unusual talent and training, and rendered a splendid program. Plans are being made by T. R. Courtney, assistant vocational agriculture teacher, for a public concert at an early date to aid in financing the trip of the local contestants to the national contest in New Jersey.

Considerable interest was manifested by the Kiwanis members in the club attendance contest launched this week under the leadership of John E. Peterson and James L. Pilkinton, captains of the contesting teams. A. W. Stubbeman made an interesting talk on the "Romance of the Ice Industry."

A handsome Kiwanis emblem desk paper weight was awarded to Frank Douglas as the fortunate one of several eligible members with excellent attendance records. Dr. C. L. Winchester, a visiting Kiwanian from Texarkana, was a guest at the luncheon.

Nevada Farmer Is Held for Assault

Matthew Porter Alleged to Have Terrorized Railroad Employees

PRESCOTT.—Matthew Porter, 65, farmer living five miles south of Prescott, who was held to the July term of Circuit Court recently under bond in the death of his neighbor, John Minus Holder, on the streets of Prescott, waived examination and was held under $1,500 bail Monday on a charge of assault to kill.

The state alleges that Porter, armed with a .45 caliber pistol, terrorized employees of the Prescott & Northwestern Railroad Company at the machine shops, requiring the men to close down the machinery and do his bidding.

Rosboro Bemis, president of the Ozan Lumber Company, was in the shops at the time and Porter refused to permit him to get a drink of water from a hydrant, officers said, and held six or seven employees at bay until Sheriff Brad Bright and his deputy, Red Vandiver, surprised and arrested him.

Sheriff Bright said that Porter was drunk. Porter has been in the county jail since his arrest and has not made the new bail required by Justice W. J. White who made the order Monday holding him to circuit court.

Green Urges Labor Board Be Replaced By New Members

Would Restore Confidence to Millions of Workers, He Asserts

LEWIS HITS CONGRESS

Says Congress' Record With Unemployment Is Worse Than Nothing

William Green of the American Federation of Labor told the house labor committee Tuesday that the present membership of the labor relations board should be displaced "to restore confidence and respect in the minds of millions of American workers."

Green urged the adoption of amendments to the Wagner act sponsored by the AFL and submitted by Representative Barden (D-NC).

One of the proposals would abolish the present labor board and provide for the appointment of a new one.

Lewis H. Lewis told the CIO executive board Tuesday that the record congress had made in dealing with the unemployment problem this year "worse than nothing."

Speaking at a meeting called to plan a new CIO organization campaign, Lewis said:

"In many ways the nation is still in a crisis. Economically we now stand little ahead of where we stood four years ago. Politically we have suffered because there has been economic paralysis," Lewis declared.

Colonel F. C. Harrington, works progress administrator told the house appropriations committee Tuesday that he proposed to make administrative changes in the "WPA," including the reorganization of the federal theater project.

Harrington disputed many charges against the WPA as "inaccurate and obviously unfair."

Air Conditioned Buses Announced

Arkansas Motor Coaches to Inaugurate New Service June 22

The Arkansas Motor Coaches announce air conditioned bus service from Memphis to Texarkana, via Hope, will be inaugurated June 22.

One of the buses was brought here last Saturday for demonstration.

New buses equipped with Frigidair air conditioning units have been purchased by the company. The move was in keeping with the company policy of always maintaining modern comfortable coaches for the patrons.

The new buses are so completely air conditioned as the finest equipment state buildings and eliminates all the discomforts of summer travel.

The coaches are insulated throughout, against heat, cold, noise and dust. The air is changed every 30 seconds and the same temperature is maintained by thermostat control.

The new schedules for the air conditioned coaches will have southbound buses leaving Hope at 4:28 p. m., arriving at Texarkana at 5:15 p. m., and the northbound buses leave Hope at 10:45 a. m., arriving at Memphis at 6:55 p. m.

Large Peach Crop for State Likely

Forecast of 2,795,000 Bushels Is Announced by Bureau

LITTLE ROCK.—The federal-state crop reporting service said Monday the Arkansas peach crop on June 1 indicated a harvest of 2,795,000 bushels compared with 2,451,000 bushels produced last year.

While freeze damage during April was severe in Northwest Arkansas, the fruit is not a total loss in that area and only spotted damage was received in the Clarksville section," the service said. "Elsewhere in the state prospects on June 1, were good."

The condition of the peach crop was 66 per cent of normal June 1 compared to 52 per cent last year.

Other crops made rapid growth generally but fields or row crops had become grassy, particularly in the central and northern areas, the service said.

Taylor Suspended From Playing Ball

Bruner-Ivory Fitcher Is Declared Ineligible by Otto Smith

Word has been received from Otto Smith, State Softball Commissioner, that Troy Taylor, star pitcher for Bruner-Ivory Fitcher, has been suspended. Taylor is not eligible to compete with any other softball team until he obtains his release from Bruner-Ivory team of Hope.

As the Bruner-Ivory softball team is a member of the Amateur Softball Association, this suspension is effective in 48 states. M. J. Puley, secretary of the national organization, said that the Texas commissioner is trying to get in touch with Taylor and advise him of his suspension. Taylor is a brother of Roy Taylor of Hope, and it is believed he was suspended because of jumping a contract here.

Ben R. Williams of Ashdown has been appointed softball commissioner for Little River county, and will have charge of the Ashdown elimination tournament to decide which two teams will enter the district tournament at Hope.

Counties in this district are: Hempstead, Pike, Perry, Hot Spring, Little River, Clark, Howard, Montgomery, Sevier, Miller, Lafayette and Nevada.

Name Successors of Randall, Gray; Humphries Fired

W. R. Horlacher and H. E. Thompson Get Farm Positions

WALLACE GIVES O. K.

Commissioner of Education's Aide Dismissed From Post

LITTLE ROCK.—Appointment by the University of Arkansas Board of Trustees of W. R. Horlacher of Fayetteville as dean of the College of Agriculture, succeeding Dan T. Gray, and appointment of Horace E. Thompson of Little Rock as assistant director in charge of the state Agricultural Extension Service, succeeding C. C. Randall, was announced Tuesday.

The announcement received a letter after the chief executive received a telegram from Dr. John C. Futrell, university president, saying Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace had approved both appointments. President Futrell has been conferring with Department of Agriculture officials in the national capital.

Mr. Horlacher is head of the Department of Animal Industry of the university, a position he has held since joining the faculty about three years ago. He will be director of the Extension Service as well as dean of the college, assuming his duty July 1.

Mr. Thompson is state director for the Farm Security Administration, with which organization he has been for nearly two years. He had about 10 years experience in the state Agricultural Extension Service before joining the FSA, having served as county agent in several counties and as district agent for Southeast Arkansas.

Governor Bailey said the selections were made by the trustees at their meeting here last Thursday.

"We were unable to announce them at that time because they had not been approved in Washington," he explained.

The governor declined to comment on failure of the board to elect Deane C. Carter to the deanship after the position had been offered to him by the board's Personnel Committee several weeks ago.

High administration sources attributed Mr. Carter's failure to get the promotion to his objection to the recent dismissal of Mr. Randall.

Humphries Fired

William L. Humphries, assistant commissioner of education since April, 1937, was dismissed from his $3,000 a year job by the state Board of Education, effective immediately. The board deferred selection of his successor until its next meeting, June 3.

Commissioner of Education Tom H. Afford was named temporary disbursing officer until Mr. Humphries' successor is elected.

Governor Bailey, ex-officio chairman of the board, said Mr. Humphries had been dismissed on the basis of a report from State Comptroller J. O. Goff that he had exceeded his authority in the absence of Commissioner Afford.

Mr. Goff told the board Mr. Humphries had sold $1,680.63 worth of frozen assets of the state Department of Education on deposit with the old Union Trust Company in Little Rock at 75 cents on the dollar May 6. He said these assets were selling at from 90 to 93 cents on the dollar at the time. Mr. Goff said he had instructed State Bank Commissioner Grover S. (Continued on Page Four)

Christianity Under Fire in Europe as Nazi Hit Church

Not for Centuries Has Christianity Been Under Such An Attack—Hitler Seeks to Control Thoughts of His Subjects

By MILTON BRONNER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON.—The Christian world of Europe is deeply conscious today that not for centuries has Christianity been under such a drum-fire of attack.

The seizure of the residence of the Most Reverend Sigismund Waitz, 75-year-old Archbishop of Salzburg, by Nazi storm-troopers who immediately moved out the furniture and converted it into an office, underlined the conflict that is sweeping over Europe.

This conflict is basic and inevitable. The rulers of totalitarian states that all earthly and temporal activities, and even the thoughts, of their subjects must be controlled by the state. No Christian believer can accept this, for all Christian faiths consider their beliefs a living force in daily conduct.

Germany is Battlefront

In Russia there is little struggle; the Soviet masters are completely in control. In Italy the fight has not really begun, though the conversion of the Italian leaders to German ideas of racialism and anti-Semitism indicates that inevitably it will come.

It is in Germany that the battle rages with greatest severity. There the elevation of Archbishop Waitz was only one shot on a wide-fronted battle. Eight ministers of the Evangelical Synod repudiated Dr. Friedrich Werner, Nazi-controlled head of the Evangelical (Lutheran) church's supreme council. They read letters declaring that Werner had placed himself "beyond the pale of the church of Christ."

The Nazi government related by forbidding religious broadcasts, restricting the sale of Bibles to religious bookstores, and withdrawing subsidies to Bible and tract publishers.

It is the conflict between God and Caesar which is as old as Christianity itself.

Planned Persecution

This conflict has been inevitable since Hitler took power in 1933. For the first few months he declared friendliness toward both the Protestant and Catholic faiths. By July, a concordat had been negotiated by Franz von Papen and Cardinal Pacelli, now Pope Pius XII. It guaranteed the preservation of Catholic schools, youth organizations, and the free circulation of pastoral letters. For a time Hitler adhered to it closely.

For the Saar, with its large Catholic population, was about to vote on adherence to the Reich. But after the changed. The Catholic Center party had been dissolved long before. Now the youth organizations were forbidden. In the struggle for the minds of the young, Hitler would brook no rivals.

In Munich, in December 1935, the whole Nazi organization was used to TEXARKANA.—Suit for collection of damages in the amount of $3000 has been filed in Miller county circuit court by H. B. Monroe of San Antonio, Texas, against Charles Briant of Hope, Ark.

The suit is the outgrowth of an automobile accident on Highway 67 last December 18, when Mrs. H. B. Monroe and daughter, Miss Lorraine Mallard, were fatally injured.

Last week Briant entered pleas of guilty to charges of failure to stop after an accident and involuntary manslaughter. He was fined $100 and costs in each case, with one fine being suspended during good behavior.

Czech Gold to Be Given to Germany

Approximately $28,000,000 Transferred "for Reasons of Principle"

BASLE, Switzerland.—(AP)—The Board of Directors of the Bank for International Settlements Monday reported by financial sources Monday to have approved the transfer of $28,000,000 pounds (about $28,000,000) of Czech gold to the Bank of England to Germany. These sources said the board had decided "for reasons of principle" to refrain from making any further statement.

The bank announced May 30 that it had been forced to authorize handing over of the gold deposited in the Bank of England for the Czech-Slovak National bank before Germany declared a protectorate over the country.

Members of the British House of Commons, inquiring into the transfer, previously had exacted a promise from the government that legal advice would be sought on whether there was any way of preventing Germany from obtaining the funds. The government had insisted there was no way of preventing the transfer except by violating its international obligations.

U. S. Has 60 Per Cent of All Gold in World

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The Treasury reported Monday its gold holdings passed $16,000,000,000 June 9.

Representing an increase of $1,000,000,000 in less than three months, the hoard now is not only the largest in the world but represents 60 per cent of all the monetary gold in the world.

The huge spring rush of gold to this country came after Germany's dissolution of the Czech-Slovak republic with attendant war scares. The rush, which attained a peak of more than $200,000,000 a week, has slackened to about $25,000,000 a week.

The Treasury's gold—no one else in this country is permitted to own monetary gold—is stored in a subterranean vault at Fort Knox, Ky., the Federal Reserve and mint vaults at New York and San Francisco and in other strong boxes.

Pin Down the Loose Talker, and Think!

If ever there was a time when the people of the United States need to think clearly, to see the substance of things and not the shadows, it is now.

The testimony of the Deatherages and Mosleys before the Dies Committee is evidence that we are scooting into another of those periodic moments in our history when people whisper and pass dark rumors in corners rather than standing up in the light and carefully seeking to find the truth.

Nothing is more dangerous than this. And the only remedy is to pin down every such rumor-monger with questions like "Exactly why do you believe that?" and "What is the source of that information?"

You hear them buzzing everywhere; "They are going over the government!" "The are doing this, and plotting that."

They? They? Exactly who are "they," these mysterious and elusive people of whom 130,000,000 Americans are expected to be so afraid? Is it the 50,000-odd members of the Communist party? Is it the untrained number of adherents to fly-by-night letterhead Fascist organizations, probably far smaller in number?

Who are "they" anyway? Insist on knowing, from the next person who buttonholes you with some of this gin-mill and cocktail-party stuff, exactly who he or she means. Insist on knowing precisely of what this fell plot consists. Insist on knowing how he or she knows about it in the first place.

General Moseley doesn't trust the newspapers, he said, to give a true picture of what is going on. Naturally he is entitled to any such opinion he may feel justified in holding.

But what appears in the newspapers is open and above-board. It can be read at leisure and unemotionally. The source of much of what newspapers print is clearly indicated. Behind every word of it an elaborate and skilled organization of trained people who have checked and rechecked.

Many critical eyes have read the contents of every newspaper before it goes to the public. The number of newspapers which would willingly mislead people is small indeed, and even they look good compared to the mass of furtive and improbable rumors that circulate by word of mouth and in many organs devoted to special causes.

"Is there any sense to this?" "Does it sound reasonable and sane?" "Who says so?" "What motive might he have for saying so?" "Where did he get that?" "What actual ground is there for believing this?"

Those are the questions we ought all to ask ourselves whenever one of these "incisestuff artists" begins to work on us. It is no time to be gullible. It is a time to weigh, to consider, and to think.

Uremia, or Kidney Failure, Demands Prompt, Drastic and Skilled Treatment

When the kidneys fail to act as they or one having been previously removed should in disposing of the waste materials from the body, a poisoning occurs which, unless controlled, will become fatal. There are many different theories as to just how this poisoning is brought about. No one cause accounts for all the varieties and symptoms of the condition. However, it becomes clear that the associated changes in the blood pressure, the increased amount of fluid in the brain, and the accumulation in the blood of various toxic substances all have some part.

Because of the variations in the manner in which the condition occurs, doctors classify three kinds of uremia. One is a sudden form which comes out of a clear sky with a sudden loss of sight and severe convulsions frequently followed by a loss of consciousness. The second is a more chronic type in which the failure of the kidney is gradual. The patient will have headache, loss of appetite, a taste of bitterness or ammonia in the mouth, vomiting, shortness of breath, and perhaps eventual muscular twitchings and unconsciousness. In some cases of this kind the convulsions or unconsciousness may develop suddenly. The bitterness or taste of ammonia may be due to the development of toxic substances in the blood and their excretion in the saliva.

Another type of uremia occurs when the kidneys are suddenly blocked, perhaps when a stone blocks the flow of urine from a single kidney, the other

Wouldn't the world be better, if the folks we meet would say, "I know something good about you." And then treat us just that way? Wouldn't it be fine and dandy, if each hand-clasp warm and true carried with it this assurance, "I know something good about you?"

Wouldn't life be lots more happy, if the good that's in us all were the only thing about us that folks bothered to recall? Wouldn't life be lots more happy, if we praised the good we see? For there's such a lot of goodness in the worst of you and me. Wouldn't it be nice to practice that fine way of thinking too? You know something good about me! I know something good about you! —Selected.

100th Anniversary Baseball Observed

Parades, Dedications on Program at Cooper-town, New York

COOPERTOWN, N. Y. —(AP)— The first 100 years are always the hardest and old man baseball took off on his second century today after being hailed and fêted at the biggest birthday party tossed him during his 10-year rule as the No. 1 figure in America sport.

There were parades, dedications, speakings, a Babe Ruth "comback" clam bake, ball games and what not for more than 11,000 people who poured into this village where Almer Doubleday invented the national pastime more than 100 years ago.

Commissioners K. M. Landis, high priest of baseball, received plenty of lusty rooting assists from a score of men whose names are found in almost every baseball blue book ever published.

Old Scenes Revived

The Baseball Museum and Hall of Fame with its relics of glorious bygone days was dedicated; so was Doubleday Field, built on the spot where Doubleday's pioneer first pitched into action 100 years ago. Eleven living members of the Hall of Fame renewed feuds and friendships and baseball as it was displayed in 1839, in the 1850's and in 1893—was reeled off by teams of schoolboys, soldiers and major leaguers, wearing the uniforms of the periods they represented.

Men who have helped make baseball history—Babe Ruth, Connie Mack, Hans Wagner, Old Nap Lajoie and Walter Johnson, to name just a few—sat on the platform as Landis dedicated the Hall of Fame "to all America."

It was accepted by Ford C. Frick and William C. Harridge, presidents of the National and American leagues; and William C. Bramham, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs, representing the minors. John A. Heydler, former National League president, who conceived the idea of the baseball party, was a guest of honor and introduced Landis.

Many Old Stars Attend

Ten of the 11 living members of the Hall of Fame received engraved bats, and a ruffle of drums and the sounding of taps answered the calling of the names of 14 deceased members.

Ty Cobb, the old Georgia Peach of the Detroit Tigers, was delayed en route by illness and didn't arrive until after the ceremonies. But the other 10 were there from Connie Mack, the 70-year-old dean down to Babe Ruth, the freshman of the lot. There were Honus Wagner, greatest shortstop of them all and still active at coach of the Pittsburgh Pirates; Tris Speaker, the old "Grey Eagle" of Boston and Cleveland; Walter Johnson, the "Big Train" of Washington; Lajoie, a great Cleveland star of the old days; George Sisler, holder of the world's record for hits in one season; Cy Young, who won 511 major league games; Grover Cleveland Alexander, the shut-out artist of his day and Eddie Collins, former great second sacker for the Athletics and Chicago White Sox.

Ruth, Johnson and Alexander got the largest ovations, but all were warmly received by the fans.

CLUB NOTES

Liberty Hill

The June meeting of the Liberty Hill Home Demonstration club was held at the home of Mrs. J. T. Butler. The president, Mrs. M. M. Adkins presided over the meeting. The club was opened with group singing using old English songs "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," an Italian song "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." This was a part of our study of songs adopted by America. During the year we will study songs that are typically American which have an accent of other nations.

The roll call was answered by each member giving a report of her poultry flock. Miss Melva Bullington, Home Demonstration Agent, gave a demonstration in one season; Cy Young, who won 511 major league games; Grover Cleveland Alexander, the shut-out artist of his day and Eddie Collins, former great second sacker for the Athletics and Chicago White Sox.

Ruth, Johnson and Alexander got the largest ovations, but all were warmly received by the fans.

Tony Lazzeri Is Named Manager Toronto Team

TORONTO—(AP)—Tony Lazzeri, former major league second baseman, has been signed to succeed Jack Burns as manager of the Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League, President Don Ross announced.

Ross said Burns will remain with the Leafs as first baseman. Burns took over the managerial job from Dan Howley last season.

Heinie Manush, recently cut adrift by the Pittsburgh Pirates, was signed as a free agent. Catcher Tommy Heath was obtained from Syracuse in a trade for Pitcher Mike Meola. Manush, a veteran outfielder, was sold to Pittsburgh after starring at bat for the Leafs last season.

WASHINGTON — Observers here interpret the appointment of Admiral Leahy, naval chief of operations, to take over the government in Puerto Rico, as meaning that the administration had decided nothing should be spared to bring about improvement in the island's condition.

Of all U. S. colonial problems that of Puerto Rico has been worst. Hawaii, the Philippines, Puerto Rico and Cuba came under the American wing almost simultaneously, and the conditions of all but Puerto Rico have improved with reasonable steadiness since. Old timers who knew Puerto Rico "away back when" will tell you that affairs in the Caribbean

Mrs. L. R. Morrow displayed homemade articles including rugs, quilts, footstool covered with needle work, a stuffed jacket, and dresser scarves which were made by her daughter, Miss Vera Morrow.

The hostess served delicious refreshments. The club will meet the second Friday night in each month for a Neighborhood Night. They reported much interest in this phase of the program.

Mrs. M. M. Adkins will be hostess to the club in July.

Mrs. Art Fincher was hostess to the Centerville Home Demonstration Club for its June meeting. Poultry and poultry products were the chief topics of discussion.

The Government and Taxation lesson was given by Miss Melva Bullington, Home Demonstration Agent.

The club made plans for a community get-together once a month for the summer—the get-together to include the entire club family.

The club toured Mrs. Fincher's home to see homemade furniture and equipment which included tables, chairs, chest, and window sates.

island, both political and economic, have grown worse. They place the blame about equally on natural difficulties in the island itself and on inept governors.

Under Democratic and Republican administrations alike it has been the habit, with a few exceptions, to appoint governors who are either out and out of political hacks or military executives who have limited patience with cumbersome civil processes.

The present governor, General Blanton Winship, has been the target of criticism from witnesses before congressional committees just as have previous governors. Every governor who goes down there has two strikes called on him before ever he sets foot on the island.

Just now a coalition group has political control in the islands—under the governor, of course. General Winship's critics have testified that he given in to them far too much with the result that patronage rolls have been swelled expensively.

General Winship replies that the island's budget is in balance, and statement which his critics greet with derisive cheers. They say that under the act giving Puri its government the budget never can get unbalanced. If the legislature appropriates more money than is raised by taxes the budget has to be adjusted to fit.

Meantime sugar plantations have expanded in the island, the larger ones owned by people outside the island. That takes out some of the wealth and has hurt many who once depended on small crops. The population is almost as dense as that of Rhode Island, nearly 500 to the mile, and hasn't a handful of factory industry with which to support it.

Lois of Trouble

There have been street shootings and assassinations, climaxed by that of 1937 when police killed 20 wounded 100 in suppressing a Palm Sunday parade of young men and women supporting an independence movement. The leader of that group now is in Atlanta Penitentiary, convicted of conspiring to upset the United States government.

The administration has financed public works projects in the island for the past five years. This has brought relief to many.

In dispatching Admiral Leahy to the scene, the President is sending the man upon whom he has leaned most

SERIAL STORY

BRIDE ON A BUDGET

BY JANET DORAN

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday Iris cooks a meal all right but she plays an act, feigning frayed nerves, after exhaustion. Bart is unable to understand the motives of women. Iris is really playing the martyr.

CHAPTER V

THAT following morning, Bart got up an hour earlier, and had breakfast all on the table before he called Iris. But she greeted his gentle peace offering with weary petulance.

"Don't worry, Bart, I won't be late to work. And if I am, I can still do your housework, cook your meals, and pay my own way as well."

"Iris, this is an unreasonable, childish attitude," he pleaded humbly. "Can't you see, dear, it's for your own good that I want to make something of our present?"

"Skip the explanations, Bart. They all add up to the same total. Men marry for better, not worse. They marry to get ahead, and they lose little time in fitting the yoke to the one they marry."

"You're tired, Iris; unreasonable. This isn't like you."

"It's a little late to discover the effects of overwork, Bart!"

In the days that followed, Bart was sure he lived in a strange nightmare from which he must surely awaken sometime. He got up early each morning, and while the soft June morning awoke and the birds sang noisy choruses outside the open windows, prepared their simple breakfast.

He followed the little budget book faithfully, despite the sarcastic comments of Iris. He believed in the wisdom of the little oracle, and he had a stubborn, unshakable faith in figures once proved.

It was Iris who scornfully surveyed the top-milk in the little blue pitcher before measuring out the cream for her coffee.

"Top-milk from one quart of milk," she mimicked sarcastically, "ample for two persons, breakfast, cream in coffee, and cereal. Use milk to prepare dessert for dinner."

"It saves 20 cents a day on cream alone, Iris." That was Bart, defensive, a trifle annoyed. "That's $1.40 a week—almost $73 a year. And in 20 years it would mean a good substantial block of paid-up life insurance."

"I never heard of taking food off the table to make insurance premiums, Bart."

"There's your cream, Iris; I haven't taken anything away from our table." And he did not add that he was $18 ahead, for that first week alone. That buying the food for the house, paying cash for it and taking advantage of low-priced bargains was the right idea. If he could win Iris over.

"Left-overs, hash, cabbage. Cheap food for cheap people. I'd rather work overtime, Bart, and live like civilized people."

"If living far beyond our means means being civilized, Iris, then I'm afraid I misunderstood you when you said we'd manage to get along by pooling our salaries and living on a budget!"

"You were thinking of saving money even then, Bart, weren't you? You married to save the expense of living in a restaurant! You married to better yourself, not because you loved me."

"It seems to me if you loved me, Iris, you'd want to help me get ahead."

"Well, I am! What more can you expect?"

"You might take it with a little sporting fairness, instead of acting like a persecuted martyr. Other women cook and keep house and seem to like it."

"Other women do not work eight hours a day in an office, Bart Whitaker."

There were arguments aplenty, those weeks during which Bart tried to work out some sort of stable adjustment to their financial affairs. Always beginning with petty trifles, they ended up invariably with mountainous issues, with old, forgotten hurts and disappointments dragged in, and an ever-widening gulf between them as the summer settled in for a long, hot run and their nerves wore thin with disappointment and defeat.

Bart wanted Iris to take out some insurance. An endowment life insurance policy was a good way for women to protect themselves, and it was a thrifty plan to get ahead.

"I can't afford any further expense right now, Bart."

"Good heavens, what do you do with your money, Iris? You're making $25 a week, and you haven't a thing to buy."

Her long, violet eyes flicked him curiously, and he felt a faint twinge of uneasiness.

"Is it so astonishing that I lived my life, earned money and needed it before I married you, Bart?" He flushed in quick irritation, but did not back down.

"All right then, Iris, what happens to the money you used to spend on food and rent?"

"When you bring home your books from the shop, Bart, and explain the spending of every dime you earn, I'll do the same for you."

THAT was the week Bart bought the soap-shaker in the 10-cent

terviorize Catholic parents into voting for state schools as against parochial schools.

A long series of persecutions followed. Nuns and priests were charged with smuggling currency. Priests were charged with the grossest immoralities. Catholic youth leaders disappeared into concentration camps and did not reappear. The Bishop of Munster said:

"Today there are in Germany many fresh graves where rest the ashes of those whom the Catholic people regard as martyrs. . . although nothing is permitted to be revealed as to how they met their end."

Cardinal Faulhaber in Munich denounced the "demoniacal blasphemies" of the Nazi press. His house was fired on by ruffians. In 1937, and again in 1938, at Floss, Catholic bishops signed pastoral letters attacking the war on Christianity and the censorship of Catholic thought and publications. The inclusion of Austria and Czechoslovakia into the Reich brought thousands more Catholics under the Nazi sway, accentuating the problem.

Move to Wipe Out Undistributed Tax

Flat Levy Is Favored as Substitute for Tax on High Incomes

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The first formal move to wipe out the remnants of the undistributed profits tax was taken Monday when the house tax committee voted to substitute for it a flat 18 per cent levy on corporations with net income of more than $25,000.

Working rapidly at its first closed session on general tax revisions, the committee agreed tentatively on that alternative and also to continue present tax rates on "little business"—corporations making $25,000 or less.

Other major proposals, which received tentative tax committee approval, would:

(1) Permit corporations to carry over their net operating business losses for two years, replacing law prohibiting any carryover.

(2) Repeat the present limitations of $2000 on deductions for capital losses and substitute the following provisions:

(A) Long-term capital losses—those sustained on assets held more than 18 months—could be applied in full against ordinary income for the same taxable year.

(B) Short-term capital losses—those on assets held less than 18 months—could be applied only to short term capital gains, but if a short term capital loss exceeded the short term gain then the loss could be applied to a short term gain in the net year.

(3) Permit corporations to increase the value of their capital stock, for taxing purposes, in 1939 and 1940, but not to decrease it. After 1940, present law would continue to apply, that is corporations would be permitted to revalue their stock upward or downward, every three years, for capital stock and excess profits taxation purposes.

(4) Continue for two years more the present excise or "nuisance" taxes and 3 cent first class postage rate, which together yield between $500,000,000 and $600,000,000.

Chairman Cooper (D-Tenn.) of the tax committee estimated that these and other items in the tentatively approved program would make little change in the approximately $1,000,000,000 annual tax yield from corporations.

On the basis of the 1939 level of business, treasury tax experts predicted the revisions would cause a revenue loss of only $15,700,000 next year.

The new 18 per cent rate would become effective next January 1.

The present rates on small corporations, which would be continued under the committee program, are 12 1/2 per cent on net income of $5000 or less, 15 per cent on those with income from $5000 to $20,000 and 18 per cent on $20,000 to $25,000 income.

Electricity for Eight Southwestern Counties

The Rural Electrification Administration announced approval Monday of a contract between the Southwest Arkansas Electric Co-Operative Corporation and the Bigley Electric Company of Findlay, Ohio, for construction of 233 miles of line to serve 700 farms in eight Arkansas and one Texas counties. Total cost will be $154,370.

Administrator Carmody has instructed the engineer to start work immediately. The contract calls for the work to be completed by late summer.

Counties included are Miller, Howard, Columbia, Hempstead, Nevada, Polk, Sevier and Lafayette in Arkansas and Bowie in Texas.

Jernigan not to honor any assignment of the account which might be presented. He said the state would sustain no loss through the deal.

The state comptroller said Mr. Humphries had sold the account to a man, who sold it to another man and that eventually the certificate came in possession of Cherry-Villareal and Company, which presented it for collection.

"The only way that the title to this claim can be transferred would be by a resolution of the Board of Education authorizing the transfer," Mr. Goff said. "The resolution should set forth the amount offered for the claim."

"In addition to this, the state comptroller should prepare a certificate approving same. Any other transfer would be illegal."

Mr. Humphries said he had no statement. Before taking the state job he was state educational director of the Civilian Conservation Corps, working for the United States Department of the Interior.

The board made the quarterly appropriation of common school funds on the basis of $2.03 per capita. A total of $1,280,036.87 was used in the appropriation, including $622,088 in common school funds and $657,948.89 in sales tax funds. The allocation increased the appropriation for the fiscal year ended June 30 to $6.30.

After first rejecting two bids received for purchase of $200,000 worth of four per cent Board of Education bonds, the board reversed itself and sold the issue to Watson, Sullivan & Co., Little Rock brokers, for $202,225. The $225 represents premium. Proceeds will be used to replenish the revolving loan fund.

We, the Women

By RUTH MILLETT

"I think she is making a terrible mistake" is a common enough comment. Because we all know just how foolish our friends are, and just how and why they are messing up their lives.

But most of us think we are doing pretty well ourselves. If we aren't getting anywhere it is someone else's fault, not our own.

It's too bad more of us can't take a long view of our lives—and see just where we're heading.

If we did, we might realize that the reason we don't move up in our work isn't because there is no future to our job, but because we are doing just what we have to and nothing extra.

We might stop assuming that our present way of living is temporary, and admit that we may never live much better.

We would quit finding excuses for the neglect of the man we want to love use—and believe exactly what his actions say.

Stop Kidding Yourself

We would stop kidding ourselves that other people overlook our shortcomings because we are such "nice people"—and understand that we are subject to criticism every time we fall down in any way.

It would dawn on us that the reason we haven't more friends is because we are too lazy to do things for other people, not because other people aren't friendly.

We might even see what we are potentially—what we could make of

Tough Breaks Come Often for 5-Year-Old

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.—(AP)—Life has been a series of bad breaks—and hospitals—for Roger Allen Marlow, 5.

When he was two he fell from a wagon and his left leg was fractured. Infection set in and so two years he was treated.

Last year he was pronounced cured but he was out of the hospital only a few weeks when his leg again was injured.

Just recently he was dismissed from the hospital once more but a few blocks away from the institution the car in which he was riding was struck and overturned. His left leg was broken again.

In the accident his mother, Mrs. Mae Marlow, suffered a compound fracture of her right ankle; his grandfather was injured fatally.

SOUR TEMPER MADE SWEET

When you are cross, irritable, and grouchy; when you find fault with the coffee, the eggs, the bacon, and the cook, you may well suspect that you have a touch of biliousness or so-called "torpid liver," so prevalent in hot weather. All you may need is a little calomel, or better still, "Calotabs," the nausealess calomel compound tablets that make calomel-taking a pleasure.

Calotabs give you the combined effects of calomel and salts, helping Nature to expel the sour, stagnant bile and washing it out of the system. One or two Calotabs at bedtime with a glass of water—that's all. Next morning your system feels clean and refreshed, your head is clear, your spirit bright, and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you wish and go about your work or pleasure.

Genuine Calotabs are sold only in checker-board (black and white) packages bearing the trade mark "Calotabs." Refuse imitations. Trial package ten cents; family package only twenty-five cents, at your dealer's (adv.)
